IAM: The Largest, Most Powerful Airline Union

The International Association of Machinists and Aerospace Workers (IAM) is proud to represent more than 600,000 active and retired members in countless industries.

The IAM Air Transport Territory includes more than 100,000 airline and airport workers across the nation. We are the backbone of the aviation industry, ensuring the safe, efficient, and seamless transportation of passengers and cargo around the globe.

We fight and win the industry's best pay, benefits, work rules and more for our members and we are a leader in fighting for the industry's members. We are proud to have been a leader in saving the airline industry through legislative solutions during numerous crises, most recently during the COVID-19 pandemic.

IAM Air Transport job classifications include:

Aircraft Technicians
Maintenance Mechanics
Fleet Service Workers
Customer Service Workers
Flight Attendants

IAM Air Transport Members work at the nation's leading carriers and services, including:

American Airlines	Spirit Airlines
United Airlines	Jetstream
